Dem Solons Rap Ike Budget

Growth, Job Needs Claimed Neglected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic majority on the Senate-Economic Committee said today President Eisenhower's budget and economic report fail to meet the nation's growth and job needs for 1960.

"By and large they are a status quo budget and report," the majority report said.

The Republican minority, calling them ample, fired back that the majority again was guilty of what it called "inexcusable juggling" of figures. The GOP members also accused the Democrats of "innuendo and misrepresentation."

The partisan quarreling followed the same lines as a report a month ago covering much of the same economic material. That document summed up a year-long committee study of policies needed to attain adequate economic growth, maximum employment and stable prices.

The reports issued today comprised the annual committee evaluation of the President's economic report which he sends to Congress each January.

The majority report said that the 510-billion-dollar gross national product forecast by Eisenhower for 1960 would be 20 to 30 billion below the economy's potential output.

It forecast that unemployment will average close to 5 per cent for this year but insisted that this could be cut to 4 per cent with adequate policies.

The Republicans countered with the contention that Eisenhower's program "will achieve reasonably" the employment, growth and other objectives of the 1946 Employment Act.

The nation's output has increased an average of 3.6 per cent a year over the last six years, they said, compared with what they called the historical average of 3 per cent a year.

Master Plan Hearings Due

Public hearings on subdivision regulations and a thoroughfare plan will be held at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow in City Council Chambers.

The two pieces of legislation are necessary to implement a Master Plan for Circleville. All persons who are interested in developing subdivisions and all members of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce are urged to attend.

The hearing on subdivision regulations will be before City Council. The thoroughfare plan hearing will be before the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

Salem Bank Aide Accused in Theft

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Alton Charles Fields, 36, was to be arraigned today by federal authorities on a charge of embezzling $33,600 from the Salem bank where he worked for 14 years.

Fields, a loan teller at the Farmers National Bank of Salem, was arrested Saturday night and brought to Mahoning County Jail here. Edward E. Hargett, special agent in charge of the FBI's Cleveland office, said the shortage was detected in a recent audit.

He said Fields, married, and the father of four children aged 5 to 16, used the money for "normal living purposes," over a period of three years.

He's Had 25 Birthdays And 114 Descendants

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — For a man who has had but 25 birthdays, Roderick P. Lewis has quite a family.

There are six daughters, four sons, 36 grandchildren and 68 great grandchildren.

Lewis, a retired contractor, was born on Feb. 29, 1856. Though he is 104, he has celebrated a birthday only on each leap year.

Lewis shared a cake with a hundred relatives Sunday.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Due To Collect Here Tomorrow

Tuesday the Red Cross Bloodmobile again visits Pickaway County on its urgent mission.

Lives of hundreds of Central Ohioans depend on blood, given by donors throughout this area at visits of the Bloodmobile. Many local persons take great pride in saving a fellow man's life, by donating blood.

During the last visit of the Bloodmobile here several of these donors again offered this life-giving fluid to their neighbors as an act of thoughtfulness and perhaps thanksgiving.

Two persons who donated did it out of thanksgiving. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Parrett, Route 2, Williamsport. In January Mr. Parrett got his three-gallon pin and his wife received her four-gallon pin. Together they have donated 56 pints of blood since 1948.

At the January 15 visit they were asked why they continue to give blood. Parrett said he was seriously injured in an accident in 1948 and two pints of blood probably saved his life.

THEY ARE paying back the loan, with interest.

Others who received special recognition at the January visit were Miles Reefer, 556 N. Pickaway St., Edgar Davis, 335 Lewis Road, James Shea, 1015 Sunshine Drive, and Mrs. Rosie Atwood, Route 2, Williamsport, all getting one-gallon pins.

Don't forget the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday at the Circleville Methodist Church.

Injured was Raymond Strobel, 42, Carroll. He suffered lacerations and abrasions of the right leg.

Deputy Felkey said the auto was demolished.

Don't Forget Any Birthday Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — If today is your wife's birthday, this is a bad year to forget it. She and 118,000 other Americans have been waiting four years for one.

Another 11,000 members will be born into the Feb. 29 club today, the census bureau estimates.

The wait is in a good cause, though.

Without that Feb. 29 every fourth year, we'd be running into such things as white Fourth of July and hot Christmases.

Trouble is, the earth doesn't roll around the sun in an exact 365 days. It takes an extra five hours, 18 minutes and 45.51 seconds, notes the National Geographic Society.

Political Barbs Aimed at Ike

Various Policies Attacked by Dems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered over the country today, Democratic presidential hopefuls aimed their barbs at a wide variety of Eisenhower administration policies. Money, farm, and defense policies were among the targets.

Former President Harry S. Truman added another. "Beware of political budget cutters," he told a Conference for Israel Bonds in Miami Beach, Fla., Sunday night.

In the case of farm policy, however, there was an indication Democrats might be attacking something unsupported by the Republicans if Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as expected, became the GOP candidate for president.

In a radio interview from Washington Sunday, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said he was certain Nixon would come out with a new program, "which will be entirely independent of past programs."

Mundt disagreed with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's view that the Eisenhower farm program would be supported by Nixon or any other Republican candidate.

A Democratic attack on Benson and the Eisenhower farm program was made Sunday by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), an unannounced candidate touring northern Illinois.

He told a luncheon group in Elgin that the present administration "will bequeath some 10 billion dollars of surplus farm commodities to haunt the farmers and the taxpayers until a Democratic administration can bring order out of the present chaos."

Financial policy was stressed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) who winds up a tour of northwestern Wisconsin tonight. He and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) are entered in the state's presidential primary April 5.

At a rally in Wisconsin Rapids Sunday night, Humphrey said that the administration's "tight money policies" had cost the small home owner and farmer millions in increased interest payments in recent years.

Fine Boxes In Effect Tomorrow

Parking meter fine boxes will be used for the first time here starting tomorrow.

Police Chief Elmer Merriman today emphasized that use of the boxes still mean that motorists will be cited each time they are in violation of exceeding the time limit on meters. He said drivers will be cited for each hour of violation during the day.

Twelve yellow boxes were installed on meters at convenient locations last week. Authorized by a City Council resolution, the boxes will be on 90-day trial here.

Charge for the first hour's over parking will be 25 cents. This money may be dropped in the fine boxes, saving violators a trip to the police station.

IF THIS fine is not paid on the day the parking ticket is issued, the penalty is $2. The resolution also notes that additional citations after the first violation on one given day means a fine of $2.

Special parking tickets with waterproof envelopes will be issued to violators to simplify use of the fine boxes.

The boxes were installed here by Nolan Dunkle, officer in charge of city parking meters.

Chile Is Third Stop on Ike Tour Of Latin Nations

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eisenhower today flew into friendly Chile to see a nation prospering by economic belt-tightening. It was the third stop of his four-nation Latin-American tour.

The first U.S. President ever to visit this country, Eisenhower was assured a warm welcome during his two-day stay with Chileans noted for their hospitality.

Greeting Eisenhower on his arrival from Argentina was Chile's 63-year-old bachelor President Jorge Alessandri, who is spearheading a campaign to end the armaments race in Latin America.

The ceremonies at Santiago's modern Los Cerrillos Airport were brief with Eisenhower reviewing the honor guard and then setting out for an hour's drive through the capital in an open car.

Crowds lined the route to the U.S. Embassy residence along broad, tree-lined Alameda Bernardo O'Higgins, named for Chile's national hero.

The capital under the snow-capped Andes Mountains was gaily decorated with flags of both nations and bunting.

The enthusiastic Chileans went all out to match with hospitality the welcomes accorded Eisenhower.

Early Vote Is Sought on Defense Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) called on Congress today to vote increased missile, air-alert and ground force spending before President Eisenhower goes to the summit conference.

A candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Kennedy said in a prepared Senate speech this "investment in peace" would cost less than Eisenhower's estimated $4,200,000,000 budget surplus.

Kennedy said he agrees with Eisenhower that, with its present mixture of forces, America's defenses are superior to the Soviet Union's at the present time.

But if the administration's defense program is allowed to stand, Kennedy said the United States faces a missile gap "on which we are gambling with our survival."

Such a situation, he said, not only creates doubt among U.S. allies but leaves the enemy in doubt — "and such doubts are tempting him."

"While those doubts persist, he will want to push, to probe and possibly to attack," Kennedy said. "He will not want to talk disarmament. He will not want to talk peace at the summit."

"I urge that this Congress, before the President departs for the summit, demonstrate conclusively that we are removing those doubts — and that we are prepared to pay the full costs necessary to insure the peace."

Northern Ohio Roads Slick, Snow-Covered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leap Year Day found northern Ohio with a batch of slick roads, the State Highway Department reported.

Both primary and secondary roads were snow-covered and slippery in spots east of a line marked by Cleveland, Akron, Millersburg and St. Clairsville.

Wet roads with slippery spots were general north of a line marked by Van Wert, Kenton, Wooster and Medina. The Ohio Turnpike was wet.

er by their richer and bigger neighbors, Brazil and Argentina.

Eisenhower, who has begun to show at times the physical strain of his grueling tour in tropical temperatures, was to lunch privately at the embassy before setting out on an afternoon of official ceremonies.

The afternoon schedule included the placing of a wreath at the monument to O'Higgins and then a formal call on Alessandri in the Presidential Palace to be followed by a private talk between the two Presidents.

Chile and the United States have long enjoyed friendly relations, and no political issues confront the two leaders.

Chile, with about 7½ million people crowded into an area of less than 300,000 miles, has been plagued with one of the worst cases of inflation in Latin America. The Alessandri government has won the support of the U.S. government and banks by instituting an austerity program that has brought good results.

But the cost of living is still very high, and wages are low, forcing many to work at two jobs.

Eisenhower came to this long, narrow country that hugs the lower west coast of South America after pledging with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi to work for better living standards in the Americas.

The U.S. and Argentine Presidents also agreed in a "Declaration of Bariloche" that their governments would continue to work for non-intervention from abroad in the internal affairs of nations and mutual respect among nations.

The declaration was signed Sunday night as Eisenhower's visit drew to a close at the resort in the foothills of the Andes Mountains.

The declaration was in general terms and did not deal specifically with Frondizi's call at a news conference earlier Sunday for an increase in U.S. financial and technical aid to Latin American countries.

Cleveland Boy Kills Father, Hurts Mother

CLEVELAND (AP) — Authorities said 18-year-old Scott Forbush could give no reason for killing his father, an insurance company executive, and wounding his mother Sunday in their $75,000 home.

Scott, who had been under psychiatric care, was reprimanded by his father, Dallas H. (Tex) Forbush, 57, when the elder Forbush and his wife, Marjorie, 52, returned from an evening of bridge at the home of friends.

The slight reprimand over staying up so late—3 a. m.—capped a series of differences between the boy and his parents, according to John J. Havel, chief of police in suburban Beachwood.

Two hours later, said Havel, Scott stood in the dark between his parents' beds. The father awakened and said, "What is it?"

Scott replied with three shots, the chief related, then when his mother awakened and asked, "What's going on here?" Scott fired three more shots.

Slugs from a 22 caliber target pistol hit Forbush in the head, chest and left arm. He died five minutes after arriving at a hospital. Only one bullet hit Mrs. Forbush, entering her chest and coming out her back. She was reported in good condition.

Utility, Union Press For New Agreement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union-management negotiators — already in session for 20 consecutive hours — continued today to seek agreement on a new contract at Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The old contract with Locals 1468 and 832 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers expires at midnight. The locals represent about 1,350 linemen and maintenance employees.

Separate Pact Said Certain

Red Boss Rules Out Plebiscite by People

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today said the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev spoke at a news conference following his return from Bogor, where he agreed to lend Indonesia a 250-million-dollar credit in an effort to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift westward.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany never has been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference.

"The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of World War II," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, the Soviet Union will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all post-war agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid," and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the (Communist) German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Soviet or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has been reported considering proposing such a plebiscite.

"We are not going to take part in such a plebiscite and we are against the participation of any other country in such a plebiscite since this would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country," Khrushchev declared.

The Western plan calls for establishment of an all-German government by free, U.N.-supervised elections in both parts of Germany. The Soviet Union proposes unification negotiations between the West and East German governments.

"A plebiscite in this or that state is the sole concern of the countries involved," Khrushchev said. "We are not neighbors of Germany. If they want to, the two German governments can come to agreement on this."

The Soviet leader said he would "exert all efforts to bring the (summit) conference to a successful conclusion."

"I do believe in the good intentions of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan, and President Charles de Gaulle," he declared.

Negroes To Picket Cincy Dime Store

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Negro civil rights group plans to start picketing a downtown F. W. Woolworth store today and extend picketing to four Woolworth stores in outlying areas Tuesday.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Sunday its planned action is a protest against Woolworth hiring policy here and an indirect stand against lunch-counter policy in Woolworth stores in the South.

Raymond C. Rambo, manager of the downtown Woolworth store, said last night, "We've never had an anti-Negro policy and never will."

Ellison Jeffries, president of the NAACP chapter here, said, "They hire a few Negroes for menial tasks like dishwashing but have none behind the counters."

Early Vote Is Sought on Defense Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) called on Congress today to vote increased missile, air-alert and ground force spending before President Eisenhower goes to the summit conference.

A candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Kennedy said in a prepared Senate speech this "investment in peace" would cost less than Eisenhower's estimated $4,200,000,000 budget surplus.

Kennedy said he agrees with Eisenhower that, with its present mixture of forces, America's defenses are superior to the Soviet Union's at the present time.

But if the administration's defense program is allowed to stand, Kennedy said the United States faces a missile gap "on which we are gambling with our survival."

Such a situation, he said, not only creates doubt among U.S. allies but leaves the enemy in doubt—"and such doubts are tempting him."

"While those doubts persist, he will want to push, to probe and possibly to attack," Kennedy said. "He will not want to talk disarmament. He will not want to talk peace at the summit."

"I urge that this Congress, before the President departs for the summit, demonstrate conclusively that we are removing those doubts—and that we are prepared to pay the full costs necessary to insure the peace."

Northern Ohio Roads Slick, Snow-Covered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Leap Year Day found northern Ohio with a batch of slick roads, the State Highway Department reported.

Both primary and secondary roads were snow-covered and slippery in spots east of a line marked by Cleveland, Akron, Millersburg and St. Clairsville.

Wet roads with slippery spots were general north of a line marked by Van Wert, Kenton, Wooster and Medina. The Ohio Turnpike was wet.

Separate Pact Said Certainly

Red Boss Rules Out
Plebiscite by People

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today said the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev spoke at a news conference following his return from Bogor, where he agreed to lend Indonesia a 250-million-dollar credit in an effort to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift westward.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany never has been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference.

"The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of World War II," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, the Soviet Union will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all post-war agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid," and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the (Communist) German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Soviet or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has been reported considering proposing such a plebiscite.

"We are not going to take part in such a plebiscite and we are against the participation of any other country in such a plebiscite since this would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country," Khrushchev declared.

"The Western plan calls for establishment of an all-German government by free, U.N.-supervised elections in both parts of Germany. The Soviet Union proposes unification negotiations between the West and East German governments."

"A plebiscite in this or that state is the sole concern of the countries involved," Khrushchev said. "We are not neighbors of Germany. If they want to, the two German governments can come to agreement on this."

The Soviet leader said he would "exert all efforts to bring the (summit) conference to a successful conclusion."

"I do believe in the good intentions of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan, and President Charles de Gaulle," he declared.

Negroes To Picket Cincy Dime Store

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Negro civil rights group plans to start picketing a downtown F. W. Woolworth store today and extend picketing to four Woolworth stores in outlying areas Tuesday.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said Sunday its planned action is a protest against Woolworth hiring policy here and an indirect stand against lunch-counter policy in Woolworth stores in the South.

Raymond C. Rambo, manager of the downtown Woolworth store, said last night, "We've never had an anti-Negro policy and never will."

Ellison Jeffries, president of the NAACP chapter here, said, "They hire a few Negroes for menial tasks like dishwashing but have none behind the counters."

Haiti Plans Repairs

PORT AU PRINCE (AP)—Haiti is issuing one million dollar sin bonds to finish repairing Port au Prince's main street. The loan is being repaid in five years by a 2 cents per gallon gas tax.

Don't Forget Any Birthday Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — If today is your wife's birthday, this is a bad day to forget it. She and 18,000 other Americans have been waiting four years for one.

Without that Feb. 29 every fourth year, we'd be running into such things as white Fourth of July and hot Christmas.

Trouble is, the earth doesn't roll around the sun in an exact 365 days. It takes an extra five hours, 18 minutes and 45.51 seconds, notes the National Geographic Society.

Julius Caesar kept dates from getting ahead of season by adding an extra day to February every four years in his Julian calendar.

But the correction proved a bit strong. The solar year gradually got ahead of the calendar year. By the 16th century, Pope Gregory had to decree no leap year in century years not divisible by 400. That's why 2000 will be a leap year though 1800 and 1900 were not.

Feb. 29 babies, when they grow old enough to celebrate their birthdays, latch onto Feb. 28 or March 1 during off years. During the reign of Henry VII the British Parliament actually authorized Feb. 28 for the purpose.

Separate Pact

over the resettlement of Chinese traders in rural Indonesian areas. He referred to Peiping only once and in a way designed to please his Indonesian hosts more than the Red Chinese.

Asked if Communist China did not rate participation in the Paris summit conference, Khrushchev replied: "Not only China but India, Indonesia, Japan and other nations will be brought in eventually."

He and Indonesian President Sukarno signed economic and cultural agreements Sunday which will give these agricultural islands a big boost toward industrialization.

In turn, Sukarno promised in a joint communique to continue his "policy of non-alignment with existing military alliances." The only alliance in the area is the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO); which Indonesia, despite its growing friendliness toward the West, has shown no inclination to join.

The economic pact granted Indonesia a seven-year credit at 2 1/2 per cent interest to be paid back over 12 years in British pounds or commodities. The loan will enable Indonesia to build a steel plant and develop her agricultural, textile, chemical and nonferrous metal industries. It also provides for construction of one or two nuclear reactors under a 1956 Soviet aid offer.

Khrushchev also announced the Soviet Union will build a 200-bed hospital and clinic as a gift.

By extending this help, Khrushchev hopes to keep Indonesia out of the Western camp. But Foreign Minister Subandrio said Indonesia still needs 500 million dollars to set up a program of industrialization.

Indonesia's growing friendliness to the West has been influenced by increasing American sympathy in her problems. U.S. aid to Indonesia since World War II has totaled 617 million dollars. Soviet credits to Indonesia over the last four years total 368 million dollars, but much of an earlier Soviet loan has not been used.

Ohio's January Traffic Toll Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio recorded 139 traffic deaths in January compared to 110 for the same period in 1959, the Highway Safety department reports.

This is a 26 per cent increase but "does not necessarily point to an explosive trend," said Director J. Grant Keys. He added, however, it serves as another in the long line of warnings that the toll may become worse.

Highway deaths in rural areas rose 24 per cent in January 1960 over the previous January, and urban traffic took 47 lives, a boost of 31 per cent.

Ammer, 141 Pleasant St., was a 19-year-old cub reporter when he broke the first big story of his career. It was first televised in 1956 on "The Big Story."

The story's format was taken here and several local personalities appear on the program.

Speculative Stocks Draw Fresh Demand

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and other speculative stocks were in demand as the stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon. Trading was routine.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule among pivotal issues. The "science" stocks and other wide movers had gains going to 2 or 3.

The market was mixed at the start, managed a moderate gain in the morning and then lost its edge as prices turned uneven.

Electronics benefited from additional recommendations by advisory services. The general business news background, however, was mixed.

Steels, coppers, oils and rails were mostly lower. Tobacco, drugs and rubbers advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .51 to 631.49. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 to 218.50 with the industrials unchanged, the rails off .50 and the utilities up .10.

Corporate bonds showed a tendency toward the downside. U.S. government bonds were firm in quiet dealings.

Judge Ammer In Delaware

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer returned to Delaware today to take charge of a Delaware County Grand Jury which is considering charges against the Big Walnut School District.

Judge Ammer presided over the Grand Jury investigation on February 17, 18 and 19 when it heard 13 witnesses presented by Delaware County Prosecutor George C. Smythe.

School officials face possible charges of embezzlement of public property, embezzlement of public money and fraud in connection with public works.

According to Delaware County court authorities it appears that Big Walnut school officials have taken school board purchased war surplus materials and sold them, pocketing the money.

JUDGE AMMER was asked to preside by Delaware County Common Pleas Judge O. W. Whitney Jr., who stepped out of the case because he has two children attending Big Walnut schools.

Judge Ammer said he expects to hear a report from the Grand Jury tomorrow.

On the first accusation, he was fined $100 and costs and had his driver's license suspended subject to compliance with the state financial responsibility law. He was fined $50 and costs for the reckless operation count.

Other drivers booked by the State Highway Patrol were: Russell A. Rice, 21, of 817 S. Washington St., and Sam H. Oldfield, 38, Mize, Ky.; each fined $35 and costs for speeding at 85 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Doctor's Appointment Is Kept — and How!

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Fotinos kept his appointment with the doctor—the hard way.

Fotinos, 47, his broken right foot in a plaster cast, was driving his car with his left foot only. As he tried to park outside the clinic Friday, his foot slipped.

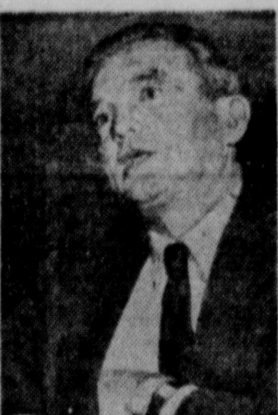

The new car roared through the clinic's wall and right into the examination room. Fotinos was uninjured. His car was wrecked.

School Office To Close

The Pickaway County School Superintendent's office will be closed tomorrow afternoon to observe the funeral services of Homer S. Reber, Route 1, Ashville, former president of the County Board of Education, who died at 2:05 a. m. Saturday.

As U. S. Air Force secretary in 1949 he had occasion to do service plane flying.

As Defense Mobilization chairman in 1950, he criticized some business for raising prices. Here he tells reporters wage-price controls can be avoided if "everybody will get in and pitch together to make indirect controls work."

In 1954 he clashed with the late Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin at the spotlighted Army hearings. "I have no intention of being quiet!" he retorts to McCarthy's, "Oh, be quiet."

The Russian economy has been on a war basis since 1928, he tells the Senate foreign relations committee at this hearing in 1955.

AMONG THOSE not running from the Democratic presidential nomination is Missouri's 58-year-old Senator Stuart Symington, who launches frequent verbal missiles at the administration's defense measures. You can get opinions that his stock has risen a lot lately. He's held top government posts since 1945, was elected a senator in 1952, again in 1958.

Are American Kids Ashamed Of Brains?

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—American youngsters are proud of their muscles, but they seem ashamed of their brains. And that, a college president said today, is a situation that must be changed.

What this country needs, said Dr. Lee A. DuBridge of the California Institute of Technology, is "open, honest intellectual competition throughout our high schools and colleges."

"We have always been perfectly frank about athletic competition, about boy's ability to make the football or basketball team," he said. "But we have been reticent to talk about differences in intellectual ability."

In a speech prepared for the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals, DuBridge said the nation's high schools must create an atmosphere in which intellectual achievement is recognized, admired and respected.

By 1970, DuBridge said, at least 65 per cent of the high school graduates will be going on to college or university. The competition for admission is going to be so rough, he added, that the prestige schools, both public and private, will have to raise their standards and accept only those at the very top in ability and achievement.

Calm, Steady Business Climb Is Impressive

Early Qualms Fade As U.S. Consumer Continues To Buy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — American families are spending whatever additional money they may come by today. The rate of their savings is changing little.

And it is this buy-and-buy attitude—without either a rush to unusual spending as in some previous years or a tendency to hoard as in others—that makes some economists confident that the qualms of a month ago were overdone.

These qualms were born of the break in stock prices and the signs that the big boom that some had looked for was unlikely to get going. Instead the belief is growing that a calmer but steady advance in business activity will last for some time and that the shake out in the stock market has made it a more realistic affair.

The extra income that many families are getting may come from a rise in wage scales or from longer work weeks. It may come from higher dividend or interest payments. It may come from higher fees received by those in the service trades and professions. Or it may come from increased benefit payments either from the government or such private institutions as insurance companies.

But the families are putting away in savings about 7 per cent of their incomes, just as they have been for some time.

Most of the new money—after taxes—slips right through their fingers. It goes for higher priced goods and services, for increased recreation, for longer vacation trips, for expensive hobbies.

This steady spending is keeping most of the American economy humming. It offsets such bubbles as occasional layoffs where earlier sales predictions proved overoptimistic and led to production beyond demand that didn't soar as expected.

The calmer pace may stretch the good times through the entire year, with only the normal summer letdown.

But the consumers are selective in their buying. They aren't buying anything and everything as they tended to do in 1955, encouraged by unusually easy installment payment terms then.

They are watching prices closely. And they are more quality conscious. Services are getting a larger percentage of individual incomes these days and manufactured goods less. And last year's status symbol may be this year's old hat item.

AM, MEI—Antonio Segni scratches his nose, perhaps over what's been and what's to be, as he leaves a ministers meeting in Rome to go to the Quirinal palace and hand in his resignation as Italy's premier to President Giovanni Gronchi. Segni's Christian Democratic party coalition uncoalesced.

Veteran Water Works Employee Retires after 38-Year Stint

Clarence J. (Jack) Martin, a familiar person on the local scene, will hang up his boots tomorrow after 38 years of service with the local Water Department.

Jack, as he is known to almost everyone in Circleville, actually has been associated with the Water Department during a span of 43 years. He started with the old water works here in April, 1917, left the firm the next year, then came back in 1923 for 37 more years of continuous service. He and his wife, Bertha, live at 408 E. Union St.

The lean and wiry Martin has seen much water flow and has taken part in many interesting incidents during his 38 years of duty. He has held just about every assignment there is in the water operations here. According to Irvin Leist, local water department head, "he knows his job like a book."

MARTIN's current job, which ends tomorrow, is distribution supervisor, a position he has held since the city took ownership of the water works in 1946.

Manager Leist said Jack excels as a trouble-shooter for the department. When water flow trouble strikes the local utility, Martin is the man who finds the difficulty and directs the correction.

He also is a past master of changing meters. Another important responsibility is supervising a crew of three competent men.

All this hustle and bustle comes to an end tomorrow. Jack said he always liked to fish and plans to do some now that he will have plenty of time on his hands. He said it probably will be hard to become accustomed to not facing the usual busy days of activity which marked his long tenure with the water department.

END OF THE ROAD — Clarence (Jack) Martin ends 38 years of service with the Circleville Water Department tomorrow. The dependable water distribution supervisor started in 1917 and worked for a year. In 1923 he came back on the job and has been there since. He said he hopes to find time for some fishing on his retirement schedule.

water establishment, along with some experiences which were not so pleasant. He remembers the thrill when the department purchased its first motor vehicle in 1918. At that time the firm was owned by the Ohio Water Service.

Prior to the luxurious truck, employees used a horse and wagon. Martin said he forced Darby Creek many times to get to the water pumping station west of town. He also remembered crossing on the ice during the winter months.

JACK SAID the high water here in January, 1959 caused the department many anxious moments. He said raging waters from Darby Creek and the Scioto River poured into the pumping station, forcing employees to pull out motors. He said the cleanup job after the flood was "terrific."

Another trying moment came in the 1920's when a 16-inch main just west of the Scioto River slipped out of joint. Martin said he and other employees worked from Saturday noon until 3 p. m. the next day without stopping.

The friendly civil employee mentioned that flood waters in 1937 and a cold spell which followed brought many problems. He said a sudden blast of arctic air froze everything in sight, including 400 water meters in Circleville. It was his job to get the meters working again.

Martin had planned to retire February 1, but postponed the switch to a quiet life on request of his superiors. They asked him to stay on another month to help out and he agreed.

Leist said Martin always was devoted to his work. According to the department manager, the veteran employee already has made it known that he will be available if needed, even after his retirement.

Jack said he enjoyed every one of his years with the water department. Although exposed to all types of bad weather, he never

Governor Finds He Can't See 'Every Fallen Sparrow'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle isn't strong for bird watching.

"There is a general impression around that the governor should see every little sparrow that falls," he observed.

DiSalle referred to numerous letters and frequent calls from Ohioans wanting him to settle local matters. Hardly a day passes without such pleas.

The latest included a Lorain County woman's request to check efficiency of a dog warden; an appeal to investigate reports that Cleveland police were shooting people indiscriminately, and for a probe of Ashtabula County welfare operations.

The governor took time out to explain that he would stay clear of local affairs unless solution appeared impossible.

"We still have the constitution and statutes placing responsibility in individuals," he said.

"Unless we have some evidence of failure to act, or abuse of power, I see no reason for the state to interject itself into local situations. It should be the last resort, not a thing to be used in the first instance."

"Many of these problems could be resolved at the local level and public officials should be more aware of their responsibilities."

"Public officials will be more conscious of their public duty if the voters remember their records at election time. This is the ultimate test of democracy."

The governor waved off requests for him to order a special investigation by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy into Ashtabula's welfare controversy.

Complainants asserted a report bottled up by Prosecutor Calvin W. Hutchins would show mishandling of public funds at the expense of county wards.

Hutchins claimed the report could not be made public because it had been presented to a grand jury which indicted a former case-worker on embezzlement charges that subsequently were dropped.

A county political leader blamed Republican efforts to regain power lost to Democrats in recent years. Meanwhile McElroy asked another $25,000 for his Stark County vice and gambling investigation begun last fall at DiSalle's request. That would boost the total to $75,000.

Although no indictments have yet been returned, aides of the attorney general said the probe recently led to bribery indictments against the mayor of Dover and alleged gamblers.

Earlier efforts by the governor in supplying gambling information gleaned by liquor agents, failed to produce indictments from Jefferson and Belmont County grand juries.

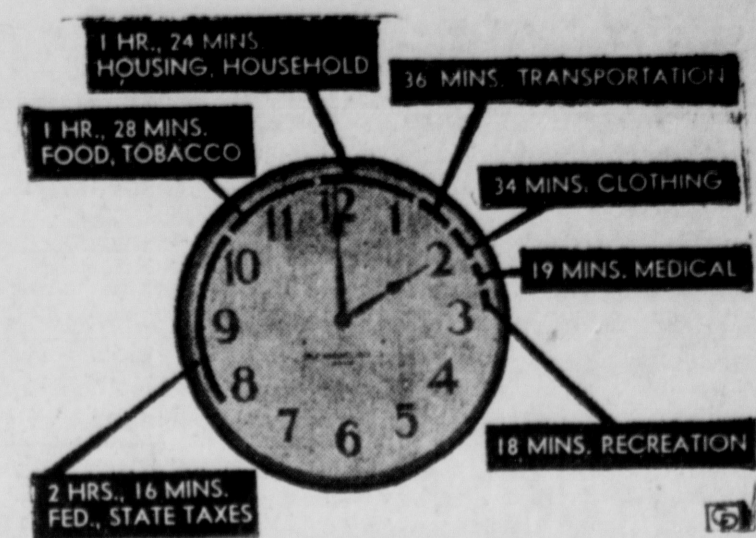

A 1959 excursion into Lawrence County led to a $400,000 libel suit against the governor that ended when the plaintiff died. The suit by an ex-state employee followed collapse of purjury and impersonation charges in a case involving a former state senator's construction of a building near Ironton.

Sewatt, from the Cleveland Urban League, said he based his study on registration and voting in predominantly Negro wards during 1956 presidential and 1957 mayoralty elections.

Calm, Steady Business Climb Is Impressive

Early Qualms Fade As U.S. Consumer Continues To Buy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — American families are spending whatever additional money they may come by today. The rate of their savings is changing little.

And it is this buy-and-buy attitude—without either a rush to unusual spending or a tendency to hoard as in others—that makes some economists confident that the qualms of a month ago were overdone.

These qualms were born of the break in stock prices and the signs that the big boom that some had looked for was unlikely to get going. Instead the belief is growing that a calmer but steady advance in business activity will last for some time and that the shake out in the stock market has made it a more realistic affair.

The extra income that many families are getting may come from a rise in wage scales or from longer work weeks. It may come from higher dividend or interest payments. It may come from higher fees received by those in the service trades and professions. Or it may come from increased benefit payments either from the government or such private institutions as insurance companies.

But the families are putting away in savings about 7 per cent of their incomes, just as they have been for some time.

Most of the new money—after taxes—slips right through their fingers. It goes for higher priced goods and services, for increased recreation, for longer vacation trips, for expensive hobbies.

This steady spending is keeping most of the American economy humming. It offsets such bobbles as occasional layoffs where earlier sales predictions proved overoptimistic and led to production beyond demand that didn't soar as expected.

The calmer pace may stretch the good times through the entire year, with only the normal summer lull.

But the consumers are selective in their buying. They aren't buying anything and everything as they tended to do in 1955, encouraged by unusually easy installment payment terms then.

They are watching prices closely. And they are more quality conscious. Services are getting a larger percentage of individual incomes these days and manufactured goods less. And last year's status symbol may be this year's old hat item.

Man Can't Escape Atom

One of the vexing problems of the atomic age is where to dump the wastes. Burying the radioactive wastes left from bomb-making or power-producing reactors may contaminate the underground flow of water. Similar contaminating results can come from dumping them in the ocean.

There has been wishful thinking that sinking them in the deep ocean trenches who go thousands of feet below the general level of the ocean bed might be the answer. Now that hope has been exploded.

When the U. S. Navy bathyscaph Trieste dropped seven miles down through the Pacific Ocean to the bottom of the Marianas Trench, its two crew members were interested to find creatures swimming healthily even at those depths. If such creatures as shrimp, jellyfish and flatfish were thriving at that depth, it proved that the water had oxygen in it.

The water therefore circulates, because if it were stagnant in the trench, the oxygen would long since have disappeared. Thus not even ocean trenches are safe places for dumping radioactive wastes. Nowhere, apparently, can man hide the results of his atomic efforts.

Machines Produce More Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The harder machines work, the more jobs there are for people. With machines now doing 94 per cent of the work, there are more jobs available per 1,000 population than there were in 1850, when machines did but 6 per cent of the work.

American women now spend over one billion dollars annually in beauty parlors.

Sir Winston Churchill is one leader who places a high value on experience. "The farther backward you can look," he once said, "the farther forward are you likely to see."

What next? Models at the Grace Downs School here are sporting a new fad—multicolored eyelashes. They give a girl that "rainbow look."

Gag of the week: "A sailor," says singer Sheila Reynolds, "is just a wolf in ship's clothing."

At what age did you marry? Until recently a girl could wed at 12 in Northern Ireland. She still can in Rhodesia and the Fiji Islands.

Household hint: It's smart to coat all door knobs and hinges lightly with petroleum jelly before painting a room. Then if paint drops on them, it can be easily wiped away.

A recent survey found the average woman washes only 30 dishes daily. My wife, when informed of this, asked in disbelief: "What does she do with the others — just throw them out the window?"

No wonder it's so difficult to achieve peace and real understanding on earth. The world still has more than 700 million adults who can neither read nor write.

If starlings are a nuisance in your city, you can blame Eugene Schieffelin, a 19th Century bird fancier. He imported 40 pairs of starlings from England in 1890 and turned them loose in Central Park in Manhattan. And they spread across the land like a feathered plague.

If you are tense, it may spring from an inability to make up your own mind. William James, the noted psychologist, warned, "there is no more miserable human being than one in whom nothing is habitual but indecision."

Time on your hands: Ever wonder how long it takes to grow a full fingernail? About 150 days.

Anyone who ever worked for a living should appreciate this definition of a boss: "He's the man in your office who is early when you're late—and late when you're early."

A large whale may have a 500-pound heart, but its brain weighs only 20 pounds. You can draw your own moral.

The sentimental soldier: President Andrew Jackson, tough in war and rough in politics, was a kindly husband. "Heaven will be no Heaven to me," he said, "if I do not meet my wife there."

Something for nothing: U.S. service stations now give away more than 100 million road maps a year.

In insects as well as humans, the female of the species often outlasts the male. Adult lady mosquitoes live about 9 days, but papa mosquito usually expires soon after breeding.

It was playwright Henrik Ibsen who observed, "the strongest man on earth is he who stands most alone."

Speaking Out of Turn

Recently one of the really authentic leaders of anti-Communist activity in the United States wrote to me, "God help us from the anti-Communists."

There are so many varieties of them and some of them are so mixed up. They have a "feeling" against Communism, against Russia, against many things, but they do not know why. They have an emotional antagonism to Communism but they refuse to do the home-work required to know of a force that came into the world more than a century ago and now dominates the lives of close to a billion human beings. Instinctive opposition to so colossal a force is not good enough.

The pamphlet prepared for the Air Force by Homer H. Hyde is supposed to indoctrinate members of the Air Force against Communism. But Hyde does not know where his data about clergymen infiltrating the Protestant churches came from.

He says that he got it from Circuit Riders Inc., of Cincinnati, from Dr. Billy James Hargis, a radio evangelist of Tulsa, from an editorial in the San Antonio "Light," and a pamphlet issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Actually this data appeared originally in the "American Mercury," in an article signed by Dr. J. B. Matthews, a well-informed student of the American Communist problems, whose records on the subject are perhaps the most complete.

At the moment that Dr. Matthews' article appeared in the "American Mercury," he was to have been appointed in charge of research for the McCarthy Committee. The article created such a furor that Matthews withdrew from the post. However, Matthews never properly defended himself. He could truthfully have said that a paragraph had been "edited" into his material which made it more sensational than it would have been had there been no editing.

An issue at stake in this controversy is the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Be it remembered that the Bible was originally written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. Each English version is a translation direct or indirect from these languages. The first English translation of the Bible from the Hebrew and the Greek was that of William Tyndale, who was burned at the stake in 1536 for doing it.

There have been a great many translations of and commentaries upon both the Old and New Testaments. One of the major difficulties about the King James version is that English is a changing language. Stuart English is not current English. Words have different meanings and different weights in a fluid language such as English is.

I recall once being pestered by a member of one of the sects that base themselves upon the Book of Daniel which they accept as final. This fellow insisted upon converting me to his point of view; I preferred my own wickedness. Finally, in arrogant anger, I told him to learn how to read Daniel in its original tongue and I shall discuss it with him.

Of course, I was wrong. It is not essential for one to know every language but it is to be assumed that translations will be improved as scholarship is sharpened and it is also to be assumed that each era will translate works of significance into its own idiom.

When all of the Dead Sea Scrolls shall have become available, additional alterations in some texts may be made and scholars will quarrel about them for a century.

Those who are not scholars may be very embarrassed when they find themselves confronted by early texts in original languages which they cannot read. As regards the Old Testament, a scholar must be fluent in Hebrew and Aramaic; he must have studied the Five Books of Moses (the Masoretic text), the Samaritan and Syriac versions, probably the Coptic text, the Targum, the Midrash, and much more.

It is a life-time of devotion but there are Jewish and Christian scholars who are at work all the time. Dr. Nelson Glueck, of the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion, is proving, by archeological means, the veracity of Biblical place names with such skill that it assists in the geological studies of the Egyptian - Arabian peninsula area.

Whoever Homer H. Hyde is, he has not done the kind of work essential to prepare the minds of those in the Air Force to protect themselves from the fallacies of Marxian clergy.

WOLF BAIT—Philadelphia policeman Donald McGlinsey pretties up with the aid of his wife Connie (top) before going on duty (lower). He dresses as a woman to catch would-be maulers and "wolves."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HARRY HERSHFIELD, whose wit enlivens a hundred banquets a year, received a call from the president of a local lodge. "Harry," implored the president, "I want our annual banquet this year to be remembered 20 years after I'm dead and gone, so I'm asking you the greatest favor I ever wanted from anybody. Come and be my guest of honor." Reluctantly, Harry agreed. Two days later, the president was back on the phone, apologizing. "I hate to bother such a busy man—but if you could get George Jessel to come to our affair, too, it would be sensational," Hershfield called him back later to report. "To show you I'm a good fellow, I've gotten you Jessel. Now I hope you're happy."

"Just one thing more I'd like," admitted the president. "If you get me Eddie Cantor, too—you wouldn't have to come yourself!"

Don't Greet with Gripes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

I think it's about time I came to the defense of the poor down trodden husbands. I mean the fellows who come home weary and hungry after a tiring day at the office, store or shop, only to find the little woman waiting to relate all of the troubles she has experienced during the day.

The children were fighting, the washing machine broke down, the dog—the one you brought home, remember?—tracked mud through the kitchen, the pot roast burned and—oh, so many other things went wrong!

Believe me, I sympathize with all of you housewives. I realize just how much you have to put up with these days. But, ladies, ease up on your poor spouses, will you? They have problems, too.

Many wives — too many of them I'm afraid — seem to think their husbands are vacationing from the time they leave home in the morning until they return in the evening.

Really, ladies, these men work too.

While you were quarreling with the serviceman about how much it would cost to repair the washing machine, your husband probably was arguing over some business deal. Or, if he is a repairman, maybe he was going through the same routine as you, with another housewife who wanted her washing machine repaired.

Maybe you had to gulp your lunch in order to get the youngsters back to school on time, although I hope you usually eat slowly and sensibly.

Well, chances are that your husband had to eat hurriedly, too. You know how crowded restaurants are at nighttime, and some firms still allow their employees only half an hour for lunch.

Whatever your troubles might have been, you'll only wear out yourself by reliving them at the dinner table. The digestion of the entire family is bound to suffer, to say nothing of their nerves.

By the time hubby comes home the day is almost over. Be thankful that the past is past and look forward to a brighter and better tomorrow.

Sometime, well after dinner, you can sit down with the man of the house and calmly—and I mean calmly—discuss the events of the day, his as well as yours.

I think you'll find a considerable amount of humor in many of the events which had you so riled a few hours earlier. And, above all, put your troubles out of your mind before you go to bed. Just remember, there always will be a tomorrow.

Question and Answer
Mrs. J. LaG.: I am troubled with a great deal of gas. My stomach bloats and I have pain in it and also in my back.

Can you tell me what causes this and what I can do to help myself?
Answer: Gas in the intestinal tract may be due to many causes. It would be definitely advisable for you to consult your doctor.

6 Cuban Cadets Trained by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Cuban cadets being trained at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station in Texas are costing American taxpayers $249,000 this year. That figures out to more than $41,000 per cadet.

Last year, $543,000 in Cuban military aid was spent to train the six cadets and other Cuban military personnel and to buy some equipment. The equipment did not include weapons and ammunition.

Another $1,089,000 spent last year on the Dominican Republic, went for "training ammunition required by a Dominican vessel during training exercises with the U.S. Fleet," and for equipment and spare parts for ships.

WASHINGTON (AP) — To prepare for the possibility of a thermonuclear war without preparing for the consequences may justifiably, perhaps, be described as total lunacy.

This is a point no one of any public stature has raised very tellingly so far in the current debate over whether the United States is lagging behind the Soviet Union in the so-called missile race.

There is a building in the arctic something called the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System which, supposedly, will give you 30 minutes warning of an attack.

In a casual conversation with Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) one day, the question was posed as to what he would do if the warning siren blew.

The senator replied, "I would probably just lie down on the sidewalk and pray. I'd rather do that than go into a cellar. The building might collapse on me."

As an afterthought, Saltonstall said he had often wondered whether or not warning at all would be preferable.

The point is: There is now no place to hide in a thermonuclear war.

From time to time you are advised by your federal government to prepare for disaster by keeping a certain amount of gasoline in your car along with an escape kit of food and water. Where are you going?

You are also advised to keep a two-week supply of food and water on hand in your home. What home?

Public buildings now have neat signs underlined by arrows in their lobbies saying "Shelter." Except at great distance they'd be useless if a hydrogen bomb falls.

Has anyone ever told you the effects of fire, blast and fallout to be expected by the explosion of a thermonuclear warhead containing the equivalent of millions of tons of high explosive?

Keep in mind, too, that this nation is committed, publicly, at least, to a policy of submitting to attack first, of striking back only if we are hit.

In a general, all-out thermonuclear war the nation with the greater survival potential will be the winner — if there is such a thing.

This means shelter: underground designed to withstand fire and blast and to filter fall-out. With 30 minutes warning at least some people can escape death by taking refuge in them. Those who reach them are the ones upon whom this nation will depend to pick up the pieces.

To date, however, no government agency has made a determined, massive effort to provide such shelters or to tell you what to do if you have to use them.

The Soviets are being far more realistic. There are compulsory survival courses for the entire population. Shelters are being built around factories.

Whatever the casualties in the cities, the Soviets apparently are making an effort to save as many of their technical workers as possible.

A deterrent force serves its purpose only if it can guarantee utter destruction of the enemy's will and capacity to fight.

Will and capacity depend on who and what survive.

NATHANIEL WESSON

Wesson fled the area after the shooting, apparently thinking that his wife was dead. Investigation developed that he left the State. Subsequently learning that his wife was not dead, Wesson allegedly wrote her a letter threatening to return and kill her unless she sent him $1,500, which she had received in a divorce settlement.

On Nov. 30, 1955, a Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles charging Wesson with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The fugitive previously had been convicted of a Federal liquor violation. He is also known as C. H. John, and his occupations include barber, freight handler, trucker and warehouseman.

Wesson is charged with a vicious assault in which his victim was shot three times. He should be considered armed and dangerous.

Man Can't Escape Atom

One of the vexing problems of the atomic age is where to dump the wastes. Burying the radioactive wastes left from bomb-making or power-producing reactors may contaminate the underground flow of water. Similar contaminating results can come from dumping them in the ocean.

There has been wishful thinking that sinking them in the deep ocean trenches who go thousands of feet below the general level of the ocean bed might be the answer. Now that hope has been exploded.

When the U. S. Navy bathyscaphe Trieste dropped seven miles down through the Pacific Ocean to the bottom of the Marianas Trench, its two crew members were interested to find creatures swimming healthily even at those depths. If such creatures as shrimp, jellyfish and flatfish were thriving at that depth, it proved that the water had oxygen in it.

The water therefore circulates, because if it were stagnant in the trench, the oxygen would long since have disappeared. Thus not even ocean trenches are safe places for dumping radioactive wastes. Nowhere, apparently, can man hide the results of his atomic efforts.

Speaking Out of Turn

By George Sokolsky

Recently one of the really authentic leaders of anti-Communist activity in the United States wrote to me, "God help us from the anti-Communists."

There are so many varieties of them and some of them are so mixed up. They have a "feeling" against Communism, a "fear" of Russia, against many things, but they do not know why. They have an emotional antagonism to Communism but they refuse to do the home-work required to know of a force that came into the world more than a century ago and now dominates the lives of close to a billion human beings. Instinctive opposition to so colossal a force is not good enough.

The pamphlet prepared for the Air Force by Homer H. Hyde is supposed to indoctrinate members of the Air Force against Communism. But Hyde does not know where his data about clergymen infiltrating the Protestant churches came from.

He says that he got it from Circuit Riders Inc., of Cincinnati, from Dr. Billy James Hargis, a radio evangelist of Tulsa, from an editorial in the San Antonio "Light," and a pamphlet issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Actually this data appeared originally in the "American Mercury," in an article signed by Dr. J. B. Matthews, a well-informed student of the American Communist problems, whose records on the subject are perhaps the most complete.

At the moment that Dr. Matthews' article appeared in the "American Mercury," he was to have been appointed in charge of research for the McCarthy Committee. The article created such a furor that Matthews withdrew from the post. However, Matthews never properly defended himself. He could truthfully have said that a paragraph had been "edited" into his material which made it more sensational than it would have been had there been no editing.

An issue at stake in this controversy is the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Be it remembered that the Bible was originally written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. Each English version is a translation direct or indirect from these languages. The first English translation of the Bible from the Hebrew and the Greek was that of William Tyndale, who was burned at the stake in 1536 for doing it.

There have been a great many translations of and commentaries upon both the Old and New Testaments. One of the major difficulties about the King James version is that English is a changing language. Stuart English is not current English. Words have different meanings and different weights in a fluid language such as English is.

I recall once being pestered by a member of one of the sects that base themselves upon the Book of Daniel which they accept as final. This fellow insisted upon converting me to his point of view. I preferred my own wickedness. Finally, in arrogant anger, I told him to learn how to read Daniel in its original tongue and I shall discuss it with him.

Of course, I was wrong. It is not essential for one to know every language but it is to be assumed that translations will be improved as scholarship is sharpened and it is also to be assumed that each era will translate works of significance into its own idiom.

When all of the Dead Sea Scrolls shall have become available, additional alterations in some texts may be made and scholars will quarrel about them for a century.

Those who are not scholars may be very embarrassed when they find themselves confronted by early texts in original languages which they cannot read. As regards the Old Testament, a scholar must be fluent in Hebrew and Aramaic; he must have studied the Five Books of Moses (the Masoretic text), the Samaritan and Syriac versions, probably the Coptic text, the Targum, the Midrash, and much more.

It is a life-time of devotion but there are Jewish and Christian scholars who are at work all the time. Dr. Nelson Glueck, of the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion, is proving, by archeological means, the veracity of Biblical place names with such skill that it assists in the geological studies of the Egyptian - Arabian peninsula area.

Whoever Homer H. Hyde is, he has not done the kind of work essential to prepare the minds of those in the Air Force to protect themselves from the fallacies of Marxian clergy.

HARRY MERSHFIELD, whose wit enlivens a hundred banquets a year, received a call from the president of a local lodge. "Harry," implored the president, "I want our annual banquet this year to be remembered 20 years after I'm dead and gone, so I'm asking you the greatest favor I ever wanted from anybody. Come and be my guest of honor." Reluctantly, Harry agreed. Two days later, the president was back on the phone, apologizing. "I hate to bother such a busy man—but if you could get George Jessel to come to our affair, too, it would be sensational." Mershfield called him back later to report. "To show you I'm a good fellow, I've gotten you Jessel. Now I hope you're happy."

"Just one thing more I'd like," admitted the president. "If you get me Eddie Cantor, too—you wouldn't have to come yourself!"

Don't Greet with Gripes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

I think it's about time I came to the defense of the poor down trodden husbands. I mean the fellows who come home weary and hungry after a tiring day at the office, store or shop, only to find the little woman waiting to relate all the troubles she has experienced during the day.

The children were fighting, the washing machine broke down, the dog—the one you brought home, remember—tracked mud through the kitchen, the pot roast burned and—oh, so many other things went wrong!

Believe me, I sympathize with all of you housewives. I realize just how much you have to put up with these days. But, ladies, ease up on your poor spouses, will you? They have problems, too.

Many wives — too many of them I'm afraid — seem to think their husbands are vacationing from the time they leave home in the morning until they return in the evening.

A SURPRISING ANNOUNCEMENT — Just when nearly everyone had consigned her to spinsterhood after the breakup of her romance with Peter Townsend, Britain's Princess Margaret disclosed she will marry society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, 29 (right), a commoner. Queen Mother Elizabeth made the announcement. No date has been announced for the leap year wedding.

Tale of Fairy Princess

Margaret's Life Very Gay For Staid Old England

Editor's Note: Following is the first of two articles recalling the life of British Princess Margaret, who plans to marry a commoner.

By NORMA GAUCH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The workaday world's favorite fairy princess is engaged to be married.

The betrothal of Britain's Princess Margaret Rose to court photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones was announced last Friday by Queen Elizabeth, the queen mother.

Queen Elizabeth's younger sister, unwilling to be bound completely by stuffy court regulation, has always lived a gay life of her own. Some critics labeled her a playgirl for her partying and love of jazz and good times.

But it was four years ago that rigid royal tradition forbade her first great love — for Peter Townsend, a divorced man she had known since her teens.

Margaret Rose, always a religious girl, heeded the Church of England, which opposes remarriage of divorced persons.

Since she renounced Townsend — who has since married again — there had been a swirl of speculation over future romance for the blue-eyed 29-year-old princess. Since babyhood she has commanded attention.

The Duke and Duchess of York had hoped their new baby would be a son and heir. They already had a 4-year-old daughter, Elizabeth — nicknamed "Lilibet."

The little princesses were brought up by their shy father in the quiet manner of the daughters of an English country squire. But a royal romance changed their lives.

The abdication of the girls' uncle, Edward VIII, for the love of American divorcee Wallis Simpson placed their father on the throne as George VI.

The education of Lilibet as heiress presumptive thereafter was directed toward the crown she subsequently inherited as Queen Elizabeth II. And it served to point up the sisters' sharp difference in temperament.

Elizabeth was reserved and somewhat retiring, always conscious of her dignity in the manner of her grandmother, the Dowager Queen Mary. Margaret was known as the mischievous one with a vivid imagination.

Margaret and Elizabeth spent the World War II years at Windsor Castle. They appeared in a pantomime for charity, and Margaret, then 13, showed her quick wit.

She suggested the front row seats be priced at 7 shillings 6 pence ($1.04). When her sister protested this was too much, Margaret quipped: "They'll pay to see us."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Snow flurries continued this morning over the northern counties of Ohio with some locally heavy flurries reported along Lake Erie east of Cleveland.

Cold westerly winds moving over the Great Lakes will continue the flurries near Lake Erie, while clouds will break up to let sun through over other sections of the state today.

The weather pattern has not changed and the morning weather map shows another low pressure area over the far southwest. The low probably will follow the path of other recent lows, resulting in more snow for the state about Wednesday. At the same time, temperatures will continue well below normal.

This morning, temperatures ranged from 6 above at Pandora to 26 at Chesapeake. Cincinnati had 16, Columbus 19, and Cleveland 21. The 6 above reading at Pandora was the coldest reported there for the winter season.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Temperatures expected to average 4 to 8 degrees below normal. Normal high 40 north to 46 south, normal low 24-28. Slightly warmer Tuesday or Wednesday, colder Thursday, continued cold Friday and Saturday. Snow likely Wednesday and Thursday, snow flurries near Lake Erie Friday and Saturday.

Thousands of Golf Balls Lost in Elyria Blaze

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Thousands of golf balls went up in smoke—black clouds of it—early today in a fire at the Worthington Ball Co.

The fire started in a steam-curing oven area on the second floor of the two-story brick plant, and some 60 firemen worked for two hours to extinguish it. The firemen were hampered by heavy smoke from the trays of burning golf balls and some of them had to use masks.

Findlay YMCA Hit By Costly Fire Sunday

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Fire caused an estimated half-million dollars worth of damage at the Findlay YMCA Sunday. No one was injured.

The damage estimate was made by Bentley Burr, president of the YMCA board of directors.

There were no activities on in the building when fire of undetermined origin and cause broke out. The entire brick structure was damaged by flames, smoke or water.

Covered Bridges Yet

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Covered bridges aren't a thing of the past in Pennsylvania. There are 118 maintained by the state alone and plans are to keep maintaining them as long as they are adequate for modern traffic needs.

You Probably Won't Starve, But Boredom Could Be Fatal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the world's natural food supply ever gives out, you probably won't starve to death.

Science, whipping together nutritious little meals in test tubes, will see to that.

But you may die from acute boredom.

Five Ohio State University coeds have ended a 30-day diet of semi-synthetic foods in a tightly controlled experiment run by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Their only complaint: Monotonous monotony.

The synthetics weren't bad tasting, only tasteless, they confessed. Their appetites always were satisfied fully. Their weight remained unchanged.

And they each got one dollar a day for the trouble of appearing for three meals daily.

At each meal, the coeds downed special wafers, butter oil (Butter with the protein removed), orange juice and a lemony-tasting liquid mixture of amino acids and minerals.

Only variations were applesauce, jelly and a multi-vitamin pill for breakfast; fruit salad and cornstarch pudding for lunch, and a canned peach and tomatoes for dinner.

The tasteless wafers, designed to provide bulk, were made of cornstarch, sugar, butter oil, mineral mix, baking powder and cellulose flakes.

R. Mary Brown Patton, one of four home economists who guided the experiment, explained:

"We are trying to discover how helpful it might be to enrich certain foods with certain acids. People who eat a variety of foods automatically get enough. But not where one food—rice, for instance—is eaten almost exclusively."

The other staff members are Dr. Virginia Vivian, Mrs. Fern Hunt and Miss Norma Metheny.

At the end of the experiment, two days were given to returning the girls to a normal diet.

"We were afraid they'd go on an eating binge," explained Dr. Patton.

Nancy Marshall of Ellwood City, Pa., longed most for a baked potato. Patricia Converse of Salem ate one bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich after another.

Their eating companions were May O'Hara of Honeyoe Falls, N. Y., Susan Spring of Roselle, N.J., and Janet Wilt of Sidney.

Chemical results of the project won't be known until laboratory tests are completed.

No, synthetic foods aren't cheaper.

Even buying at cut-rate prices, the project used nearly $1,000 worth of amino acids.

Warren Jail Is Scene Of Attempted Break

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Another jail-break attempt by a trio of prisoners held for armed robbery resulted in their transfer Sunday from Trumbull County's 90-year-old jail to Warren city jail.

Placed under strict security were Gus Moamis, 19, and James Stryker, 20, of Warren, and Raymond Bishop, 27, of McDonald.

The three were detected by jailer Harry Humble at 2 a. m. Sunday trying to gouge a hole through the stone wall of their cell block with some crudely fashioned steel tools.

On Feb. 5 the trio escaped from the county jail, but they were caught in Kent on the following day.

The 150 canals of Venice, Italy, are each about 15 feet wide.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Poor Oral Bouquet Arranger

DEAR ABBY: I am sick and tired of hearing my mother-in-law tell me what a wonderful husband I have. Just once I would like to hear her tell her son what a wonderful wife he has.

I raised five children. I did all their barbering, made all their clothing (including coats) and made all the curtains and drapes for the house. I milked cows, churned butter, pitched hay, raised a garden and canned all my own fruit and vegetables. Painted the house (inside and out), mixed concrete, plastered and laid linoleum. I am 44 years old and I keep three foster children besides our own to bring in extra money. My husband works eight hours a day and if I don't shave him and give him a haircut, he goes without. Don't you think it's time my mother-in-law gave me a little credit?

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: DEAR DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: Your husband's mother has "maternal astigmatism" and "mother-in-law lockjaw". This is a common ailment among mothers of married sons. Deep down in her heart she knows what a wonderful wife her son has, but she's stumped when it comes to arranging oral bouquets.

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a girl who has made a mistake only once with a man deserves to be married in white?

NEEDS ADVICE: DEAR NEEDS: Not according to the rules. May I suggest blushing pink?

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl, 22, and believe it or not, I have never had a date.

Not because I haven't been asked either. My mother and dad were divorced when I was a baby and all my life my mother has filled me full of stories about how rotten men are. She always tells me to stay single because I am not missing anything.

After graduating from high school I went to business school and now I am employed in a large office. A very nice girl with whom I work has been wanting to fix me up with her brother. My mother won't hear of it.

I am tired of this anti-men talk, and being watched like a hawk. How can I get my freedom without defying my mother? She is good as gold in other ways. We two live alone. Please help me, Abby.

DISCOURAGED: DEAR DISCOURAGED: Your mother's intentions may be "good as gold"—but they are tarnished. Declare your independence and tell your mother that you don't believe "all men are rotten". Take the opportunity to meet a few. Bring them home and try to change your mother's mind. If that fails—change your address.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Whisler Ladies Aid will meet at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Fred Fetherolf, Adelphi. Mrs. E. H. Fetherolf will be assisting hostess.

Spahn Says He's Ready

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — "I'm worth my salt, I'll be pitching as often as ever."

So says veteran southpaw Warren Spahn who reportedly will draw $70,000 or more from the Milwaukee Braves for the 1960 season.

Spahn reported to the Braves' baseball training camp Sunday, looking as trim and fit as ever and willing to talk about recent comments by his new boss, Charlie Dressen.

Manager Dressen said last week that he probably would give veterans like Spahn and Lew Burdette four days rest between games "for the good of the club." Some of the younger hurlers complained that they were not used often enough last year to stay in condition. Spahn and Burdette usually worked every fourth day.

Spahn said, "I want to pitch, period. There are a lot of pitchers in camp and in the long run the manager's going to go with the best. If I'm worth my salt, I'll be pitching as often as ever."

U.S. Hockey Team Climaxes Olympic

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—America's Cinderella hockey team capped the climax of a 1960 winter Olympic games that opened amid criticism and closed with high praise.

Coach Jack Riley's Yankees won the first hockey gold medal in this nation's history Sunday by staging a third-period comeback for six goals and a 9-4 victory over Czechoslovakia after trailing 4-3.

That rally brought the United States its third gold medal of the games and a third-place finish behind the Soviet Union and Sweden. The Swedes were one-half point ahead in the unofficial standings.

Four years ago at Cortina, Italy, the forces of Uncle Sam finished sixth with two gold medals—both in figure skating. They captured the same two this time as Carol Heiss and David Jenkins proved victorious. Then came the surprising hockey triumph that included victories by 2-1 and 3-2 over the favored forces of Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Americans were sitting disconsolately in their dressing room between the second and third periods of Sunday's hockey game. In walked Soviet Capt. Nikolai (Solly) Sologubov, who suggested they all take a whiff of oxygen to offset the 6,200 foot altitude.

They followed his advice and crashed home six goals in the final period, three by Roger Christian of Warroad, Minn.

The Squaw Valley facilities were lambasted nearly continually since the games were awarded to his area in California's High Sierra four years ago. Criticism ranged from the downhill ski course to hotdog prices.

As the games ended Sunday there were congratulations from European sports officials and of the International Olympic Committee.

The Soviet Union scored 16½ points with big showings in the men's and women's speed skating. In men's skating Eugeni Grishin won gold medals at 500 and 1,500 meters while Lidia Skoblikova took a pair in women's skating.

The Soviets didn't get a gold medal in cross country skiing or successfully defend their Olympic hockey title. But they led in gold medals with seven.

Sweden tallied 7½ points with three gold medals while Uncle Sam's forces had 71 and Germany 70½. Germany took four gold medals.

East Germany's Helmut Recknagel captured the final one Sunday in the special ski jumping with a best jump of 93.5 meters, or 307 feet. Second place went to Finland's Niilo Halonen, 19-year-old student, who had a leap of 92½ meters or 303 feet as his best.

The best the United States could do was seventh by Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, Colo. He had 211.5 points.

Bluffton To Host College Tourney

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)—Competition opens at Bluffton College tonight to determine Ohio's entry in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

Mid-Ohio League champion Defiance takes on Ashland, and Findlay plays Ohio Northern in the opening round of the NAIA's District 22 (Ohio) tournament.

Tuesday night the two winners play each other, as do the two losers.

Wilt Shows Pistons How Game Played

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no stopping Wilt Chamberlain for three-quarters of a game. It's all or nothing.

The Detroit Pistons thought they had Chamberlain stifled in Sunday's nationally televised NBA game in Detroit against the Philadelphia Warriors. He scored just seven points through the first half, and managed only five more in the third quarter.

That gave him 12 points for three-quarters. He had been averaging 37.8 points per game. Going into the final quarter, the Pistons were rolling along on an 83-79 lead.

But Chamberlain dropped in 11 points in the final quarter and emerged the big man in overcoming the deficit. With Chamberlain leading the way, the Warriors broke a 98-all deadlock and went ahead 104-109. They finally wrapped it up 113-111, with Chamberlain getting the clincher with 30 seconds to go.

In other games, the Boston Celtics defeated the New York Knicks 129-125 and the St. Louis Hawks turned back the Cincinnati Royals 122-105.

The Celtics' triumph kept them 8½ games ahead of the Warriors in the Eastern Division. Bob Cousy collected 14 of his 27 points in the last 14 minutes to nail down the triumph.

The Hawks snapped a three-game losing streak by downing the Royals. Cliff Hagan was high man with 39 points. Any combination of three Minneapolis victories or Cincinnati defeats would kill any chance of the Royals making the playoffs.

Delaware Dog Wins U.S. Crown

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. (AP)—Storm Harrigan, a Delaware pointer with a keen nose for quail, has won the 11th annual National Shooting Dog Championship.

The hard-running, well-mannered Harrigan, owned by Mrs. Donald P. Ross of Wilmington, captured the title Sunday in a 90-minute hunt that netted nine conveys in fine fashion.

George Calhoun, owned by Myron Steph of Lancaster, Ohio, turned up seven conveys and a single but was hard to handle during his stint in Saturday's segment of the finals. Calhoun had survived eliminations of most of the record field of 75 but failed to impress the judges much Saturday.

U.S. Hockey Team Climaxes Olympic

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—America's Cinderella hockey team capped the climax of a 1960 winter Olympic games that opened amid criticism and closed with high praise.

Coch Jack Riley's Yankees won the first hockey gold medal in this nation's history Sunday by staging a third-period comeback for six goals and a 9-4 victory over Czechoslovakia after trailing 4-3.

That rally brought the United States its third gold medal of the games and a third-place finish behind the Soviet Union and Sweden. The Swedes were one-half point ahead in the unofficial standings.

Four years ago at Cortina, Italy, the forces of Uncle Sam finished sixth with two gold medals—both in figure skating. They captured the same two this time as Carol Heiss and David Jenkins proved victorious. Then came the surprising hockey triumph that included victories by 2-1 and 3-2 over the favored forces of Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Americans were sitting desolately in their dressing room between the second and third periods of Sunday's hockey game. In walked Soviet Capt. Nikolai (Solly) Sologubov, who suggested they all take a whiff of oxygen to offset the 6,200 foot altitude.

They followed his advice and crashed home six goals in the final period, three by Roger Christian of Warroad, Minn.

The Squaw Valley facilities were lambasted nearly continually since the games were awarded to his area in California's High Sierra four years ago. Criticism ranged from the downhill ski course to hotdog prices.

As the games ended Sunday there were congratulations from European sports officials and of the International Olympic Committee.

The Soviet Union scored 16½ points with big showings in the men's and women's speed skating. In men's skating Eugene Grishin won gold medals at 500 and 1,500 meters while Lidija Skoblikova took a pair in women's skating.

The Soviets didn't get a gold medal in cross country skiing or successfully defend their Olympic hockey title. But they led in gold medals with seven.

Sweden tallied 7½ points with three gold medals while Uncle Sam's forces had 71 and Germany 70½. Germany took four gold medals.

East Germany's Helmut Recknagel captured the final one Sunday in the special ski jumping with a best jump of 93.5 meters, or 307 feet. Second place went to Finland's Niiilo Halonen, 19-year-old student, who had a leap of 92½ meters or 303 feet as his best. The best the United States could do was seventh by Ansten Samuelsen of Steamboat Springs, Colo. He had 21½ points.

Family of Eight Dead from Gases

THOMSON, Ill. (AP)—An auto dealer trudged through heavy snow along the banks of the Mississippi River to reach the secluded house of an employee Sunday and found him and seven other members of his family dead.

The frozen bodies of Leroy C. Hensel, 59, his wife, Dora, 53, and their six children were discovered by Eddie Shuler, for whom Hensel worked as a mechanic. The Hensel children, four daughters and two sons, ranged in age from 7 to 17 years.

Dr. L. B. Hussey, Carroll County deputy coroner, said the eight apparently died of asphyxiation a week ago in the four-room house the family was building. An oil burner in the house was extinguished and the oil tanks were empty.

Shuler said he decided to drive to the Hensel home to see if Hensel was sick as he had not been to work at Shuler's garage in nearby Morrison since Feb. 9.

Shuler said Hensel had told him not to worry if he didn't show up for work. Sometimes because of severe snowstorms it took him two or three days to dig out. The house is a mile southwest of Ebner, a small railroad switching station south of Thomson in northwestern Illinois.

"But I decided to take a look and see if he was sick," Shuler said.

His car became stuck in a snow drift as he drove near Thomson. But Shuler, leaving his wife, their daughter and his son-in-law in the car, waded through the heavy snow to the little Hensel house.

"When I opened the door I was shocked," Shuler said. He found Hensel and his wife dead in fold-

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt and judges of the Ohio Supreme Court plan to end a panel discussion of courtroom news photography in Columbus Friday.

They will listen in at the session following a dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi at the Ohio Press Club.

The state's highest court made it clear a couple of years ago that it would not tolerate picture-taking during sessions.

Judges unanimously adopted

Rule 29 after a Cleveland newspaper published a photograph taken without their knowledge during a court session.

Rule 29, judges explained, fortified Canon 35 of judicial ethics banning photographs and radio and television broadcasts of proceedings. Violators of the rule could expect prosecution for contempt, Weyandt added.

He said the rule applied to all courts of record throughout the state although a few judges permit picture-taking. The ban does not apply in courtrooms before and after sessions.

The Supreme Court recently refused to review the reversal of an Akron news photographer's contempt conviction for snapping pictures of proceedings through a window in the closed glass door of the Wayne County juvenile room.

Some judges have expressed belief that modification of Canon 35 would lead to a better public understanding of courts and the judicial system.

They include Common Pleas Judge John P. Case of Fayette

County, a candidate for Republican nomination in the May 3 primary for appellate court judge in the 10-county Second District of western Ohio.

Case, a member of the state bar association for 26 years, asserts that courts should aid reporters and photographers in providing more opportunity for the public to become acquainted with trials and court proceedings.

He noted that the constitution requires public trials but that only a few spectators can be accommodated in courtrooms.

"It is the primary responsibility of our bench and bar to cooperate with those agencies which have demonstrated their ability to serve the public at large with observation of public events as they happen," he said.

NINE-MONTH WANDERER BACK HOME—Sandra Brown, 7, gives Waffles, her wandering pooch, a big homecoming hug in Rochester, N. Y. When the Browns moved to a new home in the city, they gave Waffles away. However, Waffles ran away from his new owner and, after nine months of wandering, found his way to the new Brown home, this time to stay.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt and judges of the Ohio Supreme Court plan to end a panel discussion of courtroom news photography in Columbus Friday.

They will listen in at the session following a dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi at the Ohio Press Club.

The state's highest court made it clear a couple of years ago that it would not tolerate picture-taking during sessions.

Judges unanimously adopted

Rule 29 after a Cleveland newspaper published a photograph taken without their knowledge during a court session.

Rule 29, judges explained, fortified Canon 35 of judicial ethics banning photographs and radio and television broadcasts of proceedings. Violators of the rule could expect prosecution for contempt, Weygandt added.

He said the rule applied to all courts of record throughout the state although a few judges permit picture-taking. The ban does not apply in courtrooms before and after sessions.

The Supreme Court recently refused to review the reversal of an Akron news photographer's contempt conviction for snapping pictures of proceedings through a window in the closed glass door of the Wayne County juvenile room.

Some judges have expressed belief that modification of Canon 35 would lead to a better public understanding of courts and the judicial system.

They include Common Pleas Judge John P. Case of Fayette

County, a candidate for Republican nomination in the May 3 primary for appellate court judge in the 10-county Second District of western Ohio.

Case, a member of the state bar association for 26 years, asserts that courts should aid reporters and photographers in providing more opportunity for the public to become acquainted with trials and court proceedings.

He noted that the constitution requires public trials but that only a few spectators can be accommodated in courtrooms.

"It is the primary responsibility of our bench and bar to cooperate with those agencies which have demonstrated their ability to serve the public at large with observation of public events as they happen," he said.
